FLOODS

DEATH OF TWO CENTENARIANS.

KENTUCKY'S FINAL VOTE.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 17.—The terrible flood that is sweeping over the country is the worst ever known. The Skagit river is out of its banks and is spreading devastation far and wide. This city is surrounded with water and great damage is being done in this city.

Kentucky Hogs Quarantined. Cincinnati, Nov. 17.—The stock yards are quarantined on account of the appearance of cholera in hogs that were brought from Kentucky.

600 Men at Work. Norwich, Conn., Nov. 17.—The Greenville cotton mills, which have been idle since July 3, resumed work yesterday on full time and with the full complement of hands. Between 500 and 600 hands are employed.

The Vote in the Fourth. Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 17.—The official vote for congress in the Fourth district is as follows: D. H. Smith (silver Dem.), 21,655; J. W. Lewis (Rep.), 20,222; Hurlin (Pop.), 1,919; Dykhus, (Pro.), 317.

Forman's Fat Job. Washington, Nov. 17.—The president has appointed Wm. H. Forman, ex-congressman from Illinois, to be commissioner of internal revenue to succeed Miller, resigned.

Hesing a Candidate. Chicago, Nov. 17.—A new candidate has entered for the mayoralty contest of next spring in the person of Postmaster Washington Hesing.

Nine Boss Shot. Snoddy, Tenn., Nov. 17.—A cowardly attempt was made here last night to assassinate Wm. Gillin, a mine boss. He was shot in the back with two loads of buckshot. It is not known who the would-be assassins are, but they are supposed to be miners. Bloodhounds are now on their track.

Killed While Celebrating. Middletown, Ky., Nov. 17.—Two men were killed at Clinton, Va., while celebrating McKinley's election. An axvil exploded and William Cooley and Preston Mullins were killed and three others wounded.

The Venezuelan Dispute. London, Nov. 17.—It is understood that the next step in the Venezuelan affair would be that Venezuela will empower her plenipotentiary to settle and sign with the British plenipotentiary a treaty referring the boundary dispute to arbitration. It is suggested that the treaty would be signed in Washington.

Silver and Gold at Cairo. Cairo, Ill., Nov. 17.—Gold and silver have been found by the well diggers. The artesian well that is being bored in this city is now several hundred feet deep. Today a layer of quartz was passed through and was found to contain gold and silver. It is not known whether it exists in paying quantities, but the discovery has created a good deal of excitement.

The Vote in Chicago. Chicago, Nov. 17.—The canvass of the city vote on November 3 was, last night, completed by the Election Commissioners. McKinley received 204,815, Bryan, 145,659, leaving a majority for McKinley of 59,156. For Governor, Tanner received 189,516; Altgeld, 127,740, a majority of 21,618 for Tanner.

Tennessee Republicans. Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 17.—A Republican state executive committee was in session in this city yesterday, and a number of prominent Republicans are also present. The meeting was a secret one, it was understood that its purpose was to discuss the best methods for expediting the franchise practice by Democratic election officers in the recent election. It is claimed that a fair vote could be secured in five west Tennessee counties it would give the state to the Republicans.

Centenarian Dying. Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 17.—Bill Craft, aged 103 years, is dying at his home in this county. Craft is one of the most famous characters of all the mountain region. He never was at school a day. One of his peculiarities was that under no circumstances would he look at a corpse person. He has been blind for several years. His children and grand children form the largest family in this part of the state.

Hon. Jas. A. McKenize at Home. Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 17.—Hon. James A. McKenize has arrived at his home, Oak Grove, this county. He left Lima October 27, and came by way of New York. He is thin from an attack of fever, followed by small pox, which kept him in bed fifty days. He is here on a leave of absence from his duties as senator.

MOB LAW.

Marshall County Broke Loose Again.

THIS TIME FOUR MEN SHOT.

The Unwritten Law Forbidding Colored Men to Abide There Enforced.

THE OUTLAWS GO FREE.

The rankling hatred of a colored man that has long smoldered in the breasts of some residents of the Calvert City locality burst forth last night in one of the most determined demonstrations of hostility ever witnessed in the Purchase, and it is only an accident that none were killed. Last Friday Mr. Frank Keebler, a contractor for the Standard Oil Co., employed fourteen colored men and put to work cutting staves at their works near Altoona in Marshall county. The sight of a colored man in that "higgins" was an unusual sight. They all went to work. Last night about 8:30 a crowd of about 40 men, armed with Winchester rifles, shot guns, pistols, etc., rode up to the camp where the men were staying. Without a word of warning they opened fire on the crowd. Several of the colored men were seated in front of the cabin and were making mail handles. Some were on the inside of the house where Foreman Frank Keebler was taking down their names. When the shots first rang out men jumped and made for the house. Some went into the house, others fled into the woods the mob then surrounded the house and fired several shots in the house, the house being a log structure with few openings their shots had little effect. Finally the leader of the mob ordered the house set on fire. At this time Mr. Keebler who had been in the house all the time appeared in the door and begged the mob to disperse and talked to them and asked them to commit no further acts of violence as several of the negroes were already shot. His remarks fell on deaf ears, however. "Fire the house, burn the G—d—up," yelled the excited mob. The negroes were praying and begging to be given a chance to leave. The mob outside held a convention of a few moments and called Mr. Keebler out and said they would give the negroes 25 minutes to leave and if any one did not go in that time would be killed. Mr. Keebler informed the poor unfortunate wretches of the mob's orders, they were however afraid to leave the house until Mr. Keebler assured them they would not be hurt if they left inside of five minutes not a colored man was in hearing distance. They went in all directions. Some came to this city last night on the 1:32 train, others came to Stiles in this county about five or six miles from the scene of trouble.

The wounded are: Smith Torian, shot in head, arm and leg. Mitchell Clark, shot in arm and back with small shot. John Boyd, shot in jaw, breast and thigh. Devo Jenkins, shot in head, breast and wrist. A representative of the Sun visited the scene this morning and saw Mr. Keebler who gave the information. When asked if he had given the colored men work and refused white men, he said: "No, we have work for everybody. We could not get as many hands as we wanted, and we sent away and got these negro boys to come here and work. They did not take the place of white men and we have work for all white men who want to work." He said last night about 8 o'clock two white men came to the house with a possum they had killed and come in the house, presumably to see if the negroes had gone. They went away and in about half an hour the mob was there and the utmost excitement prevailed. None of the men shot are hurt seriously.

If any one knew any of the men in the crowd they either were afraid to give their names or else did not wish to go so. The affair has created a great deal of excitement in that section. Mr. Tichenor, of the Standard Oil company, was seen by a Sun reporter this morning, but knew nothing about the affair. Some of the colored men, he said, were employed two weeks ago to cut stave timber, and were first put to work near Little Cypress. Ominous threats were heard, but little heed was given them. One farmer accosted one of the colored men several days ago and asked if they were going to stay there. The man replied that he guessed they were, to which the farmer replied, "Well, I'll have me a nigger tonight, shure!" This was repeated to some of the other men and they became frightened and repeated it to Foreman Snyder and Foreman Keebler. They consulted with several of the men living hereabouts, and were assured that it was all a bluff.

When they went to work where the shooting occurred last night, the house they were given to occupy was formerly used as a smoke house by Mr. Douris, who sold the company the timber. It is now full of shot, it is said. Smith Torian, the Paducah man who was shot, lives at 1007 north

Ninth street. It is he who was out in front shaping a mail handle with a draw knife when the fusillade came. The one who was at first supposed to have been killed is said to have crawled under the house. Joe Greer was assassinated in his own door near the same spot on Christmas eve, three years ago, and about fifteen years ago a whole negro family was mysteriously shot near the same place.

The antipathy to the colored race has existed for the past thirty years, and while they are allowed to pass through in daytime they are not safe after sundown.

UNITED STATES COURT

In Session at the Government Building.

Quite an Amount of Business Disposed Of.

In the case of First National Bank of Union City, against Farmer & Etheridge for $4800, the plaintiffs today in open court declined the offer of the defendants to confess judgment for $4884.65.

The Southern Express Company, by order of the court, was made a party to the suit, and this precluded the trial of this case at the present term of court.

This is the case where $500 is alleged to have disappeared from an express package while it was being carried from Union City to Paducah last summer.

This forenoon the grand jury indicted Ambrose Cless, of near Bowling Green, for counterfeiting. He is a green, gaudy looking youth and is charged with raising $1 to $10 bills.

YESTERDAY'S COURT. The case of the United States against D. M. Brown was continued. This was for violating pension laws. He is still at large.

In the case of W. J. Young judgment was suspended. He paid his tax and judgment was suspended on this account.

Dick Saunders was tried and found guilty of violation of the revenue laws. He was fined $100 and sentenced thirty days.

George Thomas was tried on a similar charge and fined $100 and thirty days.

A. J. Johnson received a similar fine and Chris. Howard was fined $100 and given thirty days.

Dick Hilder received a similar sentence.

DISTRICT COURT. Today the grand jury returned the following indictments: Jeff Sanderson, Robert Milliken and George Derrington, for violating criminal revenue laws; Ambrose Cless, counterfeiting.

Judge C. H. Thomas today presented resolutions adopted by the Paducah bar yesterday, and they were adopted by the federal intern and ordered spread on the minutes.

George Derrington was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days for violation of internal revenue law.

GIVEN A HOME.

Jimmie Height Sent to Louisville Today.

By the Local Society for Securing Homes for Children.

Jimmie Height, a lad about ten years of age, was sent this morning to Louisville by Secretary Will Hummel of the local branch of the Children's Home Society, to be given a good home furnished by the society.

The boy lived in Paducah and his mother was deemed unfit to take care of him, according to Mr. Hummel. The object of the society is to take charge of children who are not receiving the proper attention, and give them a good home, which is furnished free by the society.

The association has done much good in Paducah, in a quiet and unpretentious way, and several unfortunate children have been given homes.

SENSATIONAL SUIT.

Mrs. Lucy J. Scott Asks for Divorce.

Says Her Husband Has Abandoned Her for Another Man's Wife.

Mrs. Lucy J. Scott filed a sensational suit for divorce this afternoon against her husband, Moscoe E. Scott, who has charge of the New Richmond Hotel pool room.

She states that they were married five years ago in Livingston county and lived happily for a time, but her husband soon became indifferent and negligent and often remained away all night.

They moved to Paducah, she said, and for the past six months he has treated her in such a manner as to indicate a settled aversion to her, and destroyed her peace and contentment.

She further charges that he is now, and has for sometime past been living in adultery with another woman, flagrantly and openly violating morality, and admitting as much to her. She says he spends his time and money on the other woman, and asks a divorce, the custody of their child and $25 a month alimony.

This case hinges on another divorce suit recently filed, in which Dave Augustus brought suit against his wife, charging adultery with Scott. She and Scott are now said to be living together, and two homes have thus been destroyed.

POLICE COURT.

A Brief Session Was Held Today.

A Few Fines Were Assessed and Several Cases Dismissed.

The morning session of Judge Sanders' court was enjoyable—because of its brevity.

Bertie McClure, Barbara Rankin and Mary Smith, colored, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and were fined $10 each.

H. Atterton was charged with being drunk and disorderly and smashing in the door at his residence on Third street. He was let off with a fine of $1 and costs.

The case against Messrs. W. G. Whitfield and E. W. Bokman, for buying meat at the market, before the proper time, with a view to reselling it, was dismissed, as it was shown that Mr. Whitfield bought the meat for his own consumption.

Joe Thomas, colored, was fined $10 and costs for striking Sarah Brown.

Dave Wilson was fined $3 and costs for striking Hardy Little. The case against the latter was dismissed.

The sound money Democratic organizations in the various states are calling their flags to the mast and are giving the Popocrats to understand that any time they want another scrap to say so.

The centenarian who remembers George Washington is yet occasionally to be found. But the man who four years from now can remember any valid arguments used by the Popocrats in the recent campaign will be a genuine curiosity.

Let the investigation of the alleged fraud on the ballot box proceed, cut where it will, and let every repeater, every importer and ballot box stuffer be corralled and sent to the penitentiary without regard to his politics or standing.

The "First Voters' Sound Money Club," of Hastings, Minn., has a gigantic horn fifty feet long and with twenty-six mouth-pieces. Thirty young men carry it and its sonorous blasts strike terror to the hearts of all Popocrats within a radius of three miles.

In 1883 Mr. Cleveland carried New York by a plurality of 193,854. This was considered such a wonderful thing that the prodigy who had accomplished it was at the first opportunity made president of the United States. Yet New York this year sits down on the free silver heresy with a majority of 275,000 for McKinley.

As Spain already has two able bodied rebellions on hand, it is not likely that she will declare war with the United States. But this of course is how possible war government cause the construction of the point of view of this the state of the world rapidly to add to sample protection against attacks of a foreign navy.

In the single town of Anderson, Indiana, yesterday no less than 5000 idle laborers were put to work. Just think what a vast difference in the condition of retail trade, including farm produce, such an increase in the number of wage-earners must make. Should their earnings amount only to ten dollars per week on the average, their combined wages would be $50,000.

This report of the sewerage committee is a model as a concise and business-like paper. Its recommendations are clean and pointed and have an earnest ring that will inspire confidence that the council really means to do something for this needed improvement. The only criticism we would pass on the report is that of placing the date for beginning work as late as May 1. A large amount of work might be done before that date to the immense advantage of the city.

It was hoped the news purporting to come from Cuba yesterday that Weyler had met Maceo and that the latter was in a fair way to administer a good drubbing to the brutal Governor-General was well founded and that the drubbing was duly accomplished. Nothing would give more pleasure to the people of the United States unless it would be an opportunity to send to the bottom of the sea a few of the old Spanish tubs that have been insolently annoying Americans and insulting Old Glory.

SENATOR BUTLER, of North Carolina, chairman of the Populist National Committee, will be in Paducah on Monday.

PHILLIPS

It is not to be hard for Mr. Bryan to do. Being a populist in everything but name, he might readily assume that, especially as retaining the name of Democrat can assure him no advantage, seeing the larger part of the Democratic party will never follow a forlorn hope with him for a leader again.

It is to be hoped for the honor of America there is no truth in the statement, coming from Spanish sources, that Mr. Cleveland has given assurance to the Spanish government that he will not under any circumstances recognize the insurgents as belligerents. There are not, it is believed very many patriotic Americans who in Mr. Cleveland's position would have withheld this well earned encouragement from the oppressed people. The record of Mr. Cleveland has not been one of sympathy for the oppressed of other lands, but it is hard to believe that even Mr. Cleveland would commit himself to such a heartless concession to an arrogant and barbaric despotism such as Spain is.

In the conduct of his recent campaign Mr. Bryan showed very small judgment. He succeeded in drawing large crowds, but in every large city he canvassed he was beaten by largely increased majorities and the same was true of the states in which he spent most time and labor. His judgment is again at fault in endeavoring to keep himself before the people for four years as a presidential candidate. He was a curiosity and hence a drawing card during the campaign. He cannot be a curiosity for four years. He will be completely worn out as an attraction before a year has expired and so far from being the recognized leader of the silver Democracy, before the four years have half done he will be a subject of ridicule by the men who erstwhile supported him.

To hear the words of Mr. Bryan and the school of political orators of which he is now the recognized leader one would imagine there was great unrest and discontent among the laboring people in all parts of the country, whereas, as a matter of fact they are in the main happy and contented. The past three years have been hard ones by reason of a panic of fear which seized the business world on the accession to power of a party pledged to a reduction of the tariff and the encouragement of a larger importation of foreign made goods, to the displacement of our own goods and the labor that produced them; and later to the agitation for a debased currency carried on by these demagogues, together with their ceaseless tom-tom of the ills of the farmer and the laborer. Their sole stock in trade is to create and foster discontent. They are vampires that sap the lifeblood of the Republic. But for their utterances the good times of which we are now assured would have been with us months ago.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.
It seems likely that Grover Cleveland's second administration is destined to be famous for its foreign complications. The termination of the Venezuelan controversy marks the beginning of a new era in the history of our foreign affairs. President Cleveland's famous message to congress upon England's insulting answer to the United States, representations upon Venezuela's claims and her refusal to recognize the Monroe Doctrine brought this country and England to the verge of war, and undoubtedly aggravated greatly the panic already existing. But the great diplomatic victory which this nation has won has more than compensated for any evil effects that may have followed Cleveland's startling and warlike message. The chances of war between the United States and Great Britain have been greatly decreased by the agreement reached between the two great nations.

The crisis today in the relations of this country and Spain is perhaps even more acute than the Venezuelan situation. Spain is humiliated and her people angered by her inability to subdue the Cuban rebellion. She holds the United States responsible for the ability of the insurgents to keep up the struggle. On the other hand the American people deeply sympathize with the Cubans; they also have not forgotten the Virginia affair. Every Cuban victory sends a thrill of delight through American hearts. Popular opinion is ceaselessly demanding that the administration at Washington take decisive action. War may confront President Cleveland at any moment. The situation is strained to the utmost.

It is well for these states so severe a re-education has been administered to the above their progress was such that a restoration to the country over-land is ready to be made.

Do You Want Employment?

SWEET CHARITY.
"The poor ye have always with you," said the blessed Nazarine, and nothing he ever said was truer. No condition of society that is possible, no legislation, no amount of education can obviate the poverty that is always present; the want and privation that result from sickness, vice, misfortune and mismanagement.

What is to be done about it? There are always those among the more fortunate, whose hearts, filled with the milk of human kindness, yearn to relieve suffering humanity. Charity organized and unorganized has done much to relieve want and suffering in all ages, and man's inhumanity to man has found its counterpoise in the strong impulse to charity inherent in the breast of woman, worked out in a thousand ways.

There are charities that elevate and charities that degrade; and it is often the case that kindly disposed persons do absolute harm by promiscuous charity. It is sometimes the case that an absolute gift, by tending to destroy the sense of independence in the recipient and to implant the idea of depending on others, destroys in a measure his sense of responsibility and leads him to look to others rather than himself for his support.

That charity that leads the recipient into the way of supporting himself, and mayhap gives courage to a desponding fellow man and implants a hope which may buoy him up to make the most of his opportunities is the truest charity.

May we be permitted to suggest to the charity organizations of the city a plan of work that would be elevating in its tendency and could certainly be made in a large measure self-supporting. It could be made to provide work for men, women and children who are unable otherwise to secure employment, or even to fill a position if offered them. Suppose, for example, a few cords of wood were provided on which a half hour to a day's work could be given to men and boys entitled to charitable consideration, according to their necessities and the circumstances of each case; let it be worked up into stove wood and kindling. It would be an easy matter to find customers for this charity product at good prices, and for a large amount of it. Plain sewing and other work might be furnished the women and girls, some at home and others at a common work shop, the product being collected and kept in a store house for sale could be paid for in work or cash, the prices being made low and yet not so low as to seem a gift.

As a branch line of work children of poor families should be taught useful occupations and given an insight into the possibilities of an earnest, useful life.

The variety of labor could be increased from time to time as the field opened for it.

Such a plan of campaign as this would involve a large amount of work and responsibility, but if charitably inclined people would assume the responsibilities and devote the time requisite to elaborate and put into force such a system of work as this then good results would be speedily apparent.

These suggestions are not claimed as entirely original with the SUN nor has it been attempted to elaborate a plan to any considerable extent, the suggestions being made merely by way of hints that may or may not be valuable if acted upon. The SUN is, however, impressed with the belief that more intelligent and prudent charity work should generally be done. A charity work that does not appear to the recipient as charity, is the most truly charitable because it does not tend to the destruction of self respect and independence of character.

WHAT IT MEANS.
The Galveston (Texas) "Daily News" (Dem.) says:
"The recent election means that the American people have decided to destroy all sectional lines and that no party can ever hope to win in this country by vicious appeals to class prejudice and to the baser instincts of human nature. It means that the doctrine of discontent and discouragement will not be endured longer. It means law, order and peace. It means prosperity and progress. It is a death blow to the riotous scheme of conquest and spoliation upon which the desperate politicians decided at Chicago to go before the country.

The credit and honor of the nation must be protected. Property rights and contracts must be respected. The laws must be obeyed. It means a new hope and a new life for the younger or comparatively undeveloped states of the Union, including Texas, in which investments of capital are needed and invited. It is well for these states so severe a re-education has been administered to the above their progress was such that a restoration to the country over-land is ready to be made.

The Response of the "Masses."
From New York Journal of Commerce.
The appeal of Mr. Bryan was made specifically to two classes, the wage-earners and the farmers, more particularly the farmers and others in debt. It is interesting to observe the response made by these classes whom the Bryanites sought to begot and whose cupidities they sought to arouse. The working classes are to be found in the great cities, most of which are nominally Democratic, and in the great manufacturing centers. Fourteen of the largest cities of the country, several of which are generally Democratic, gave Mr. McKinley pluralities aggregating 346,500. New York City, always Democratic, gave him 20,000; Chicago, generally Democratic, gave him 21,000; St. Louis, usually Democratic, and in a state always Democratic, gave him 17,000; Cincinnati, Democratic, gave him 60,000; and the comparatively small city of Indianapolis, gave him 14,000; Cleveland Milwaukee, both of which were counted on by the Bryanites because of recent serious troubles between workmen and employers, gave McKinley pluralities, and Milwaukee is claiming to have shown the largest relative gain for McKinley of any city in the country. As for the manufacturing states, the pluralities of 273,000 in New York, 164,000 in Massachusetts, 54,000 in Connecticut, over 20,000 each in such small states as Rhode Island and New Hampshire, and 87,000 in New Jersey and 30,000 in Pennsylvania are evidence of the futility of the Bryan effort to array the wage-earners against the employers.

The farmers are the greatest political power in the Northwestern States, every one of which gave an unprecedented plurality for Mr. McKinley. The evenness with which the McKinley pluralities are divided between the country and the city is one of the most remarkable facts in this election. Minneapolis and St. Paul gave a quarter of the Minnesota plurality, and Chicago gave nearly half of the Illinois plurality. Baltimore gave nearly two-thirds of the Maryland plurality, and St. Louis is the only one of fourteen large cities that was not in political accord with the rural portions of its own state.

The appeal to the debtors was equally futile. The McKinley states not only have much the greater part of the wealth but they also carry much the greater part of the mortgage debt. Of all the families of the United States 8,331,519 lived in the census year in what are McKinley states and 3,936,444 in Bryan states, this comparison giving the McKinley states a good deal more than two-thirds of the families. Of all the families 13.37 per cent. lived in mortgaged homes or on mortgaged farms. But in the McKinley states the percentage of families that carried mortgages rose to 16.5, and in the Bryan states to 7.9 per cent. It was in the states where people are thrifty buying homes and farms on instalments that Mr. Bryan was defeated. Take, for example, the following table shows the percentage which all the families in mortgaged homes or on mortgaged farms bore to the whole number of families in several states:

McKinley States	Bryan States
Illinois	1.28
Indiana	1.16
Minnesota	2.45
Michigan	1.02
Wisconsin	1.02

It is not necessary to carry this comparison further; Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri are the only states that supported Bryan that have an appreciable number of families carrying mortgages. Altogether the Bryan states had 311,182 families living in mortgaged homes or on mortgaged farms, and the McKinley states had 1,375,172. Eighty per cent. of all the mortgaged homes and farms were in the states that gave their electoral votes, by pluralities in most cases far beyond all precedent, to the representative of sound money.

There is nothing odd about Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. Reliable, old time remedies are used in its manufacture, but Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey scientifically combines new and valuable medical agencies. This remedy advances a theory in the treatment of all lung and bronchial coughs, until its introduction. It always cures quickly, colds, coughs and grip. It strengthens weak lungs and relieves consumption.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

The council, at its meeting last night, exemplified an unyielding "bucket shop" and the ordinance committee was instructed to draft an ordinance imposing a license on the institutions. Some of the councilmen said that these future shops take more money out of the city than any other one thing.

The city will in all likelihood soon have a new system of maps of the town that will obviate every complication in the future, such as have in the past been brought about in disputes over boundary lines. Every insurance company has one of these maps, which are in book form, each block being on a separate page, and containing the number and dimensions of every piece of property, the brick houses being in red and the frame in blue. One map will be kept in City Engineer Wilcox's office and whenever there is a change or a building permit issued the map will be modified to comply with the change.

The suggestion of Councilman Barnes in regard to reconstructing the streets, is a move in the right direction. Mr. Barnes has written to twenty-one cities about the construction of streets, and has on file replies from all. In paving Broadway with vitrified brick, the cost to the city would be comparatively nominal. The street car company would have to improve seven or eight feet, and the remainder would be improved by the property owners on each side. If the plan now in contemplation is adopted, Paducah will indeed have the prettiest streets in the State.

Several of the councilmen have expressed themselves as being convinced that the time has come for the city to assume metropolitan pretensions suitable to her size. A number of them at the meeting last night signified a determination to do away with the awnings in front of numerous stores. Councilman Rinkieff said that he would never vote for permitting an awning to be put up as long as he was in the council, and so did Councilman Clark. Two requests for permission were refused, but the ordinance committee was instructed to bring in an ordinance regulating the height, the disparity in which seems to be one of the greatest objections to those now up in various portions of the business localities.

A story is told about a Paducah young lady's candor when she was questioned by a customs officer at the port when she returned from Europe sometime since. The officer asked her if her trunk contained anything she did not intend to use herself and with commendable frankness she replied:
"Yes, I have a dress for mamma."
"But I didn't expect you to tell," quickly interjected the officer, who seemed sorry that he had asked her. When a group of young ladies started to leave the chief officer started to pass them all, when his subordinate stepped forward and stopped the young lady in question, saying, "I'll have to tell on this young lady, because she has already told on herself." She had the satisfaction of seeing her trunk turned upside down in the dust, and before the scrutiny of many eyes, and the bargains she thought she had secured on the other continent developed to be anything but bargains, for she had to pay an exorbitant duty on all the fine dress patterns, laces, etc., that she had purchased for her friends and relatives.

The city council on a certain local paper recently as an inducement offered its carriers, or all who secured a certain number of new subscribers, a ticket to the show. The boys worked assiduously and one little fellow adopted an ingenious and very successful plan. He would go to the door of some encouraging-looking residence and ring. When the lady came in response, he informed her that he just lacked a subscriber and if she'd only take the paper a week he'd be certain of a show ticket. In this way he prevailed upon the sympathies of enough to get the requisite number of subscribers, and carried off the show ticket in triumph.

The subscribers dropped off in a week or two and the circulator himself went around to see about getting them to stay with him. At one door the lady inquired impatiently:
"Well?"
"Do you take the paper?" he inquired.
"No, I don't take the paper," she replied.
"I'd like to get you to subscribe for it," the other meekly observed, cowed by her intimidating manner.
"I don't care if you would," she retorted, "I'm tired helping people get show tickets. Besides, you're too big to go around earning a show ticket that way. You are old enough to buy it." She shut the door and left the astonished circulator all alone in the cold, cold world.

Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey cures coughs for young and old. Most cough medicines simply helps you cough. Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey helps you not to cough. See the difference? Would you like to try it? 25 cents gets you the biggest quarter bottle of cough medicine you ever saw. It is particularly valuable for those who can not stand the strain of coughing. Ask your druggist for it. Take no substitute. There is nothing as good as Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. Sold by Gehlrich & Walker.

GATHERED ON THE LEVEE.

The river is still rising here.

The Dick Fowler was away to Cairo at 8:30 this a. m.

The John S. Hopkins was right up to time this morning for Eddyville, up the Cumberland.

The Emma Cooper is laying in port awaiting for the completion of her captain which is being turned out in the shop here.

Pilot Chas. Beard is once more at the wheel of the Tennessee river packet, Edgar Cherry. A better man for the position cannot be found.

Capt. Leyhe has brought a tug with him around from St. Louis this year, to convey them to and from their fleet, which is about five miles up the Tennessee river.

The towboat Fallie which sunk some barges before last at Sister's Bar, passed down for Cairo yesterday with three barges, which she succeeded in raising. She is due to pass up today for Louisville.

Work is progressing nicely on Capt. Pete Johnson's towboat, the Grace Morris, and she will make her first trip in about two weeks, and is expected to be a better boat now than when new, as she has had some very good alterations made on her here.

Capt. Bauer's steamer, City of Clarksville, which he has just completed repairing, arrived out of the Ohio yesterday and will run in the Paducah and Elizabethtown trade. The boat has a full length cabin of handsome design and is elegantly furnished and a full length texas and handsome pilot-house, which gives the entire boat a graceful appearance. She is handsomely painted and in every respect a perfect steambot. She left on her return to Elizabethtown and way landings this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

TO HAVE SEWERS.
The Committee Makes an Interesting Report.
AT MEETING OF THE COUNCIL.
Mr. Al Hymans Declines to Qualify—Mr. E. E. Bell Re-Elected.
THE PROCEEDINGS IN FULL.
The council met last night in regular session. Mayor D. A. Yeiser presiding and all the members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.
FINANCE COMMITTEE.
Mr. Rinkieff, of the finance committee, presented the following bills which were allowed:
City Tax Collector Katterjohn's report showed collection of $1748.30 accompanied by treasurer's receipt for that amount. The report was received and filed and the regular commission allowed.
ORDINANCE COMMITTEE.
The ordinance providing for the establishment of a board of health for the city of Paducah was given second reading and final passage.
The ordinance granting the Paducah Electric company right of way through certain streets for the purpose of establishing a steam heating system was referred to the city attorney with instructions to draft a suitable ordinance.
RELIEF COMMITTEE.
A petition of Mr. S. F. Payne for relief from over assessment was granted, and his assessment was reduced $200. M. H. Bradley, from $300 to $600, and several similar prayers were granted. George Chittenden was refunded $3 on excessive taxes.
Mr. M. H. Bradley was ordered refunded $2.40.
A petition was read from Mrs. Wilson Thompson. She stated that her husband paid taxes for 60 years here, and always did all he could for the advancement of the city. She said that she found it impossible to make her property pay her taxes, and asked that she be exempted from taxation, or at least have her assessment reduced. The committee reported adversely on this.
The matter of allowing Officer Fayette Jones five days pay for extra work was brought up. Officer Jones lost several days but worked extra several nights.
Mr. Rinkieff said that he would vote against the allowance because it would be establishing a dangerous precedent that might in the future cost the city considerable money.
Councilman Williamson coincided with Mr. Rinkieff and said that while for personal reasons they might be prompted to allow the amount, as custodians of the city's funds they might be doing some thing amiss. The motion to allow the amount was lost.

SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

REPORT OF SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 16, 1906.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: We, the street committee, after a thorough investigation and deliberation, on the subject, beg to suggest and recommend to the adoption by your honorable body the following plan for your streets:

First. That you will dig up and cut down to the original grade the streets (Jefferson, Broadway and Court) from the river to their western termini and relay with the best obtainable gravel and put in underground sewers, thereby doing away with the present surface gutters and old wooden street crossings, beautifying the streets and increasing their width full 12 feet, the streets then graveled from curb to curb and rolled with a 15-ton roller.

2d. That you will put in thorough repair all the other streets of the city and adopt the continuous repair system; whenever a hole appears to fill it, level and tamp with the tamper until solid.

3d. To establish a sweeping system whereby the streets (Broadway, Jefferson and Court) from river to Sixth street inclusive and First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth street between Jefferson and Court, shall be sprinkled and swept with a power sweeper three times per week, from May 1st to November 1st, and all other streets to be sprinkled and swept and sweepings hauled away once per month during the same period. The chain gang being utilized then as now, in keeping the gutters of the city scraped and clean.

4th. We recommend that the street committee be empowered to enter into a contract for five years with some competent persons, under bond, on the best terms obtainable for the best interest of the city to execute the above described work. Subject to the ratification of the council. You will recognize the importance of prompt action in the matter, for after consuming the time necessarily to enter into such a contract intelligently and upon good terms for the city, the contractor will need considerable time to provide himself with rollers, sweepers and other machinery and organization of his force so as to be able to begin work by May 1st.

Respectfully submitted:

T. P. CAULKER,
GEORGE F. BARNES,
C. LEBEL.

LICENSE COMMITTEE.

Chairman Livingston presented several applications for liquor license, which were granted and the bondsman ratified.

FIRE COMMITTEE.

Chairman Kameleiter stated that they needed some new fire boxes, indicators, wires, etc., for the new engine house. He read a proposition from one firm agreeing to furnish the necessary material for $513.

Capt. Carter moved that the fire committee be empowered to purchase the outfit, and the motion prevailed.

REPORT OF SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: We, the sewerage committee, after a thorough investigation and deliberation, on the subject, beg to suggest and recommend to the adoption by your honorable body the following plan for your streets:

ing to consider the question of sewerage and to recommend the manner and plan upon which said work may be done and paid for, in a way which will be most equitable and fair to the people of the whole city. We leave to make the following report.

We believe the system of sewerage recently recommended by the Chairman of the Sewerage committee is as good if not the best system which could be adopted for our city. The character of cities of our class designates two ways by which sewerage can be constructed. One by general taxation and another way by a district plan, requiring the various districts through which sewerage passes to pay for said work.

We would recommend the adoption of a combined plan, as follows: Lay the city off in districts in the manner specified in our charter, and for this purpose that the sewerage committee, with Councilman Williamson, proceed at once to lay off and establish such districts; that the cost of sewerage be paid for by the various districts; as specified by the charter, except that all main sewers, and pumping station be borne by public expense.

We would recommend that the work of sewerage of the city be commenced by or before the first day of May next and be prosecuted and continued from year to year until all that part of the city which is closely built up have been sewerage appropriated to be made by the common council each year to properly prosecute the work, provided that not more than $20,000 shall be appropriated in any one year for said purpose.

We further recommend that this report be published in one of the daily papers in order to give it the widest publicity; and realizing that this work is of the greatest interest to the public at large, we invite any and all criticism and suggestions from such of our citizens as may feel disposed to give the matter their consideration.

Very respectfully submitted:

GEORGE F. BARNES,
JOHN DUFFLE,
J. E. WILLIAMS,
E. F. BARNY.

Committee.

Chairman Barnes moved that the ordinance committee be instructed to draft an ordinance, in accordance with the above, which motion was passed by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Barnes then read a report from the street committee relative to repairing the streets. It recommended a general system of repairing the streets, etc. This was referred back to the committee.

Gentlemen: We, the sewerage committee, after a thorough investigation and deliberation, on the subject, beg to suggest and recommend to the adoption by your honorable body the following plan for your streets:

First. That you will dig up and cut down to the original grade the streets (Jefferson, Broadway and Court) from the river to their western termini and relay with the best obtainable gravel and put in underground sewers, thereby doing away with the present surface gutters and old wooden street crossings, beautifying the streets and increasing their width full 12 feet, the streets then graveled from curb to curb and rolled with a 15-ton roller.

2d. That you will put in thorough repair all the other streets of the city and adopt the continuous repair system; whenever a hole appears to fill it, level and tamp with the tamper until solid.

3d. To establish a sweeping system whereby the streets (Broadway, Jefferson and Court) from river to Sixth street inclusive and First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth street between Jefferson and Court, shall be sprinkled and swept with a power sweeper three times per week, from May 1st to November 1st, and all other streets to be sprinkled and swept and sweepings hauled away once per month during the same period. The chain gang being utilized then as now, in keeping the gutters of the city scraped and clean.

4th. We recommend that the street committee be empowered to enter into a contract for five years with some competent persons, under bond, on the best terms obtainable for the best interest of the city to execute the above described work. Subject to the ratification of the council. You will recognize the importance of prompt action in the matter, for after consuming the time necessarily to enter into such a contract intelligently and upon good terms for the city, the contractor will need considerable time to provide himself with rollers, sweepers and other machinery and organization of his force so as to be able to begin work by May 1st.

Respectfully submitted:

COW STEALING.

A Well-known Ex-Butcher Arrested.

John Lawrence, a well known ex-butcher, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Anderson Miller on a warrant charging him with stealing a cow from Mr. C. A. McCammon, proprietor of the Commercial hotel.

The cow was found in Oscar Randall's possession and was recovered through a writ of delivery. Randall claimed that he bought it from Lawrence, and the latter claims he bought it from a darkey, who lives up on Cumberland river. The officers are now after the darkey.

A GOOD SHOW.

The Spooner Dramatic Company Gives Good Satisfaction.

Morton's opera house was packed last night to witness the first production of the Spooner Dramatic company. The most universal satisfaction prevailed. The company carries its own scenery, which is very fine. The costumes, too, are elegant, and the acting is good. It is by far the best popular price company that has been here for some time.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Items of Interest Relative to the Railroads and Railroad People.

M. C. & ST. L. MILWAUKEE.

Engine 310 doubles back this p. m. on train 80. She came in on 51 this a. m.

Engine 5 rolled in with train 113 on the dot. Tom Sisson and Phil Smith do that way most all the time.

Engineer A. S. Clute, of the 59, takes a few days off to go hunting. His phenomenal success as a turkey shot is what did the work.

The train boys report the woods full of snags since the game law expired and they have nearly all caught the bird fever and are planning to get a day's sport.

Engineer Bill Spencer and Fireman Sneed, in on the morning train, reported the woods on fire between Yuma and Lexington, Tenn. Their eyes show the effects of the smoke.

Express Messenger Holt, on the Lexington turn around, is winning golden opinions all along the line. He will soon rival his predecessor, Ranshing, if he keeps up his present gait.

Mrs. Perkins, the mother of Conductor Perkins on the south and local, is very low at 475 Georgia street, in Memphis. She is suffering with paralysis, and not expected to live through last night.

The car that carries the big iron safe will be here this p. m. Conductor Tucker headed his train this way from Hollow Rock this a. m. at 9:05, and Paymaster Glenn will disperse the needful on arrival.

Roadmaster I. I. Walker and Mr. Clover, the bridge boss, were out on the special this a. m. Mr. McDonald, the chief engineer of the system, joins them at Hollow Rock Junction, and a general inspection of the line will be made.

Fireman Bunker who was hurt at the time of the Summerville wreck and has been in the Boyd-White infirmary most of the time since has so far recovered that he will leave in the morning for a visit to his relatives in Alabama and Florida.

During the war, while the writer was detailed as a "con" on a Southern road, we had to evacuate, that is we had to run our rolling stock over other roads to a place of safety to avoid being captured by two separate raids of the enemy approaching our line at one time from different directions. Being short of transport, one train was put in charge of the coppermith of the road, whose name was Kell. He followed got a freight train on the Mississippi Central and got to Jackson, Miss., all O. K. At that place he took the Southern for Meridian. He left Jackson flagged by a train loaded with soldiers. The rule on the Southern at that time was that when a flagged train fell fifteen minutes behind the one she was following they had to return to the station last passed. Mr. Kell did not understand the rules and for some cause lost nearly an hour, but went ahead. Near Brandon, on turning a short curve, there was seen a long train approaching. There was no time for the engineer to do anything but join the bird gang which he and his fireman both did. The engines were both telescoped and the train they struck was filled with soldiers, two or three of whom were killed and some eight or ten badly hurt. Mr. Williams, the superintendent of the road, was on the train and when he got up to the engine he said:

"Where is the conductor?" and when Mr. Kell replied, "Here I am," and skipped to the front. The superintendent said:

"What are you doing here? Did you not know you had lost your schedule?"

Mr. Kell ran his hand into his pocket, pulled out the copy he had been furnished with in Jackson, and said: "No I haven't; here it is."

When the soldiers found out how matters stood they talked of shooting Kell, but he got wind of it, and struck out through the woods and walked back to Grenada.
